DESCRIPTION AND LOCATION

Mellyns occupies a quiet, elevated position set-back from Church Road, part-way between the many amenities of Hugh Town and the pretty village of Old Town.

Originally built in the 1970's, the property was substantially extended and re-modelled internally by the present owners in 2005, including the installation of high-quality double-glazed aluminium windows and doors throughout.. A stylish, frameless Trombe conservatory was added in 2011, further improving what was already spacious, highly appointed accommodation.

With its immaculately presented contemporary interior, raised sun deck with sea views and excellent location, this low-maintenance property would be equally suitable as a stylish second-home / investment or permanent residence.

Offered for sale complete with floor coverings and curtains as fitted, with no onward chain, viewing is highly recommended. Other furnishings are available by separate negotiation.

OUTSIDE

A vehicular driveway, shared by the adjoining property, Gallinule, leads to Mellyns.

Gates open on to a gravel area, gently sloping down to a decked terrace adjoining the house. The garden has raised flower beds, and seating under the shade of a large pine tree. Within the front garden is a SUMMER HOUSE with cedar-shingled roof and light and power connected. WOODSTORE, with slate roof. Two small garden stores provide useful storage for tools, etc. Within the garden is an external power point, lighting and water tap.

To the rear of the property, accessed by sliding patio doors from both the lounge and dining room, is a split-level DECKED TERRACE, offering a private seating area with restricted views across St Marys Harbour to the islands of Bryher and Samson beyond – the perfect place for a glass of wine whilst watching the sun set. External water tap and power point. Ingeniously fitted around the deck is a model railway track which, if desired, can be acquired with the property by separate negotiation.
